Dr. Francis Thinks When an Officer Says "Halt," Obedience Should Follow.

To the Editor of the State Journal.

Sir—In the matter of the tramp shot by one of the city police, while resisting arrest by running away, it seems peculiar to law-abiding people to inquire what our police are for anyway. Are they paid salaries, and dressed in uniform to stand dummy-like upon the street, to remain good people that have been made for their protection? and, let behold the symbol thief.

Are they clothed with authority, a club and a gun simply to ostracize the man or woman who will in no sense readily while letting escape every individual who neither respects the law nor its representative?

If this is the case, then I would respectfully suggest that both police and police commissioners be discharged and the salaries not paid. In place of the fund of the "Associated Charities."

Why did the tramp run away? Was he entirely innocent, without accusing conscience? and are our officers such bad men that the visitors must not only "cut them" but run away to keep out of their society? I think not. The guilty, unless an accused, whilst the innocent man, whose intentions are wholly honorable, fears no one and feels no occasion for running away.

An officer in the performance of his duty must be allowed full discretion, and a man who knows an officer wants him, and is after him should not run, and if he does, he should take the medicine, even though it were a leaden pill. There are none so ignorant in this country that they do not know the functions and duties of a policeman when in uniform, and therefore, if there is no law to protect an officer and warranting him to take a man even if he must shoot to do it, then one should be executed.

This chasing of criminals all over kingdom come, at the expense of law-abiding citizens, is not the best idea it may be made to appear by sickly sentimentalists. One vigorous and careful patrol law is worth more than a score of slouched ones, no one dare enforce because, forsooth, the scamp would not stop to be arrested.

Who would stop, if by running, he could avoid arrest? No innocent man will run, and the officer who takes the chance should be commended. The honest man has no better friends than in the police of the city. W. C. FRASER.

Populist Newspaper Will Denounce Todd for Hischerizing Baker.

A prominent Populist, who was formerly a state news employee, said today that the removal of A. C. Baker by Labor Commissioner Todd would be the occasion for every Populist newspaper in the state to give the labor commissioner a "good time."

The Populist who hate Todd so bitterly, say Baker was a good official and that his only fault was that he was too much inclined to the "assistant business" after the South African style.

At the meeting of the Topeka Trades' and Labor Assembly last night, Baker's removal was discussed and the statement that Baker was responsible for the action of the trades' union in denouncing Todd was vigorously untrue.

The evening was a very pleasant one, and was enjoyed by both those who went to sing, and those who went to look on.
